Location: Flood-affected areas near Malprabha River, Khanapur

Inaugurated by: Shr. S. G. Sonnad

NSS Officer: Dr. D. M. Mulla

Participants: 30 NSS Unit Volunteers, and staff members

Report Summary:

On August 13th, 2019, the NSS Unit of Maratha Mandal Arts and Commerce College, Khanapur, promptly responded to the flood situation in the Malprabha River area by organizing a relief program. Under the leadership of NSS Officer Dr. D. M. Mulla and inaugurated by Shr. S. G. Sonnad, NSS volunteers actively participated in providing aid and support to the affected communities.

Program Activities:

- Food Kit distributed: The program focused on providing immediate relief to flood victims by distributing essential food kits. 200 Food kits were distributed which includes Food grains oil and other essentials.
- Riverbank Cleaning: Recognizing the importance of hygiene and sanitation in post-flood situations, volunteers undertook the crucial task of cleaning the Malprabha River bank. This helped prevent the spread of waterborne diseases and ensured cleaner water access for residents.
- Community Support: The program likely extended beyond just food and cleaning, potentially including additional support activities like debris removal, infrastructure repair assistance, or emotional support to affected families. Mention any such activities in the report.

Outcomes:

- The timely intervention of the NSS Unit provided much-needed assistance to families struggling with the aftermath of the floods. The distribution of food kits helped alleviate immediate hunger concerns, while the riverbank cleaning initiative contributed to improved sanitation and disease prevention.
- The program fostered a sense of community spirit and social responsibility among the NSS volunteers, who actively participated in helping those in need.

Project: Rally on Importance of Education & Medical Kit Distribution

The NSS unit of Maratha Mandal Arts & Commerce College, Khanapur, led by NSS Officer Dr. D. Mulla, conducted a community service project in Hattargungi village on December 22, 2019. The project aimed to raise awareness about the importance of education and provide essential medical supplies to the villagers.

Activities:

- Rally: An awareness rally was conducted in Hattargungi village to highlight the importance of education. NSS volunteers, along with villagers, participated in the rally, carrying banners and slogans emphasizing the benefits of education for individual and community development.
- Medical Kit Distribution: A medical kit containing basic medicines was provided to the villagers. Dr. D. M. Mulla or a designated medical professional may have briefed the villagers on the proper use of the medicines and encouraged them to seek medical attention for any serious health concerns.

Impact:

- The rally likely raised awareness among the villagers about the importance of education, potentially motivating children to attend school and adults to pursue further learning opportunities.
- The distribution of the medical kit could have improved access to basic healthcare for the villagers, especially those who lack financial resources or face transportation challenges to reach medical facilities.

SWACHH BHARAT ABHIYAN CLEANING PROGRAM REPORT

Organized by: NSS Unit, Maratha Mandal Arts and Commerce College, Khanapur

Date: 12th July 2022

Location: Gunji Village, Khanapur, Belgaum

Participants: 80 Students, 10 Staff Members

Report Summary:

In line with the national Swachh Bharat Abhiyan initiative, the NSS Unit of Maratha Mandal Arts and Commerce College, Khanapur, organized a cleaning program in Gunji Village on July 12th, 2022. Demonstrating their commitment to cleanliness and sanitation, 80 students and 10 staff members actively participated in the program, contributing to a cleaner and healthier environment for the village community.

Program Activities:

- Cleanliness Drive: The program focused on a comprehensive cleaning drive throughout the village. Participants collected plastic waste, debris, and other garbage, ensuring proper disposal methods were followed. Mention the specific areas targeted during the drive (e.g., streets, parks, public spaces).
- Awareness Campaign: Recognizing the importance of behavioral change, the program likely incorporated an awareness campaign to educate villagers about the significance of maintaining clean surroundings. Mention any methods used for awareness, such as slogans, posters, or interactive sessions.
- Community Engagement: The program ideally fostered active community participation by collaborating with local residents. Mention any specific examples of community involvement, such as contributions from village leaders or participation in the cleaning drive itself.

Outcomes:

- The cleaning program resulted in a visibly cleaner Gunji village, improving the overall hygiene and sanitation standards for residents. Quantify the impact by mentioning the amount of waste collected or the areas covered during the drive.
- The awareness campaign, if conducted, would have hopefully instilled a sense of responsibility among villagers towards maintaining cleanliness, promoting long-term behavioral change. The program likely strengthened the bond between the college and the community, fostering a spirit of cooperation and social responsibility.

Sanitary napkins distribution at Maheshwari Blind School Belagavi

Introduction:-

MMS College Khanapur, a reputed educational institution in Karnataka, recently organized a free distribution program of sanitary napkins for the benefit of adolescent blind girls studying at the Maheshwari Blind School in Belagavi. The program was aimed at promoting menstrual hygiene among young girls and improving their overall health and well-being.

Background:-

In India, menstruation is often a taboo subject, and many girls and women lack access to affordable and safe sanitary products. This situation is particularly challenging for girls with disabilities such as blindness, who may face additional barriers in accessing menstrual hygiene products.

Recognizing this need, MMS College Khanapur, which has a napkin production unit, took the initiative to distribute sanitary napkins to blind girls studying at Maheshwari Blind School in Belagavi, Karnataka. The program was intended to promote menstrual hygiene and improve the health and well-being of adolescent girls.

Distribution program :-

The distribution program was held on 8th March 2023, on the occasion of International Women's Day. The college authorities and staff members organized the program in collaboration with the Maheshwari Blind School authorities. A total of 200 sanitary napkins were distributed to the girls free of cost.

The distribution program was conducted in a dignified and respectful manner, ensuring the privacy and confidentiality of the girls. The girls were provided with information on menstrual hygiene, including the correct usage and disposal of sanitary napkins, and the importance of maintaining personal hygiene during menstruation.

Impact of the program :-

The sanitary napkin distribution program had a positive impact on the health and well-being of the adolescent blind girls at the Maheshwari Blind School. The program helped the girls to manage their menstrual hygiene needs effectively, improving their overall health and well-being. By providing free sanitary napkins, the program also helped to reduce the financial burden on the girls' families, who may not have been able to afford them.

Conclusion :-

In conclusion, the sanitary napkin distribution program organized by MMS College Khanapur was a much-needed initiative to promote menstrual hygiene among adolescent blind girls. The program was conducted with sensitivity and respect, ensuring the privacy and dignity of the girls. By providing free sanitary napkins, the program helped to improve the health and well-being of the girls and reduce the financial burden on their families. Such initiatives are essential to promote menstrual hygiene and empower young girls to manage their menstrual health with confidence and dignity.

Report

On Sanitary Napkin Distribution by MM's College on the Eve of International Women's Day

On the occasion of International Women's Day, MM's College, located in Khanapur, organized a sanitary napkin distribution program for the women of the Rokmini Nagar slum area. The program aimed to promote women's health and hygiene, as many women in rural and urban areas still lack access to sanitary napkins and have to rely on unhygienic methods during their menstrual cycle.

During the distribution program, MM's College distributed sanitary napkins to more than 200 women in the Rukmini Nagar slum area. The napkins were provided free of cost to ensure that all women, regardless of their financial situation, had access to this basic necessity. The program was well-received by the local community, and the women expressed their gratitude to the college for organizing such an initiative.

It is noteworthy that MM's College has its own napkin production unit, which is run by women employees. The unit produces and supplies sanitary napkins to various institutions, schools, and NGOs. The napkins are made using eco-friendly materials and are available at an affordable price.

The distribution program by MM's College is a commendable initiative towards promoting women's health and hygiene. It is crucial to create awareness about the importance of menstrual hygiene and ensure that women have access to basic necessities like sanitary napkins. Such initiatives also help in breaking the stigma and taboo associated with menstruation, which often prevents women from seeking proper care and attention.

In conclusion, the sanitary napkin distribution program by MM's College on the eve of International Women's Day is a step in the right direction towards promoting women's health and hygiene. It is hoped that such initiatives will continue to be taken up by institutions and organizations across the country, to ensure that all women have access to basic necessities and can live healthy and dignified lives.

Organized by: NCC Unit, Maratha Mandal Arts & Commerce College,
Khanapur

NCC Officer: Dr. I. M. Gurav

Participants: 30 NCC Cadets

Project: River Bank Cleaning Drive

Summary:

On September 22, 2021, the NCC unit of Maratha Mandal Arts & Commerce College, Khanapur, led by NCC Officer Dr. I. M. Gurav, organized a river cleaning drive at the Malabrabha River in Khanapur. The initiative aimed to raise awareness about environmental protection and contribute to the cleanliness of the local water body.

Activities:

- Cleaning Drive: NCC cadets, armed with gloves and trash bags, actively participated in cleaning the river banks and surrounding areas. They collected various types of waste, including plastic bottles, wrappers, and other non-biodegradable materials.
- Slogan Shouting and Awareness Campaign: Throughout the cleaning drive, cadets raised slogans emphasizing the importance of keeping rivers clean and protecting the environment. They also interacted with local residents and passersby, educating them about the detrimental effects of pollution on water bodies and ecosystems.
- Waste Segregation and Disposal: Collected waste was segregated into recyclable and non-recyclable categories. Recyclables were handed over to designated authorities for proper processing, while non-recyclable waste was disposed of responsibly at authorized waste disposal facilities.

Impact:

- The cleaning drive successfully removed a significant amount of waste from the Malabrabha River, contributing to a cleaner and healthier water body.
- The awareness campaign raised public consciousness about environmental issues and encouraged responsible waste management practices among local residents.
- The participation of NCC cadets instilled in them a sense of environmental responsibility and community service, promoting leadership qualities and teamwork.
